VICE ON SOUTH SIDE IS EXPOSED BY O'BRIEN --HARDING NAMED

Chief Healey Hit Hard by Story of Conditions in New Levee District—Sen. Harding's Name Dragged in Again—North Side to Be Shown Up.

Capt. W. P. O'Brien, suspended police head of the South Side black belt, today made public a list of saloons and dives in his district which he asked Chief Healey to put out of business and which are still wide open.

In spite of his protests, the name of State Sen. George B. Harding, millionaire boss of the Second ward, was again dragged into the mud before Judge Olsen. On a document relative to the restoration of the saloon license of Philip Yensos, keeper of a saloon at 2806 Cottage Grove av., appeared the notation that "Sen. Harding had taken the files to the chief's office for restoration."

Yensos' place was described as a particularly tough resort in an affidavit made by Mrs. Frances Barrier, 2808 Cottage Grove av. From her window overlooking Yensos' back-room she said she saw sights that are unprintable. O'Brien also said he asked that Yensos' saloon be closed
